Some Things New and Strange

In the way of Music and Music Books are constantly appearing among the publications issuing from the many presses of DITSON & CO. They only finish one book to begin another, and hurry off sheet music by the mile.

Here are a few out of many good things. For the rest, send for Lists or Catalogues, always cheerfully furnished.

Those who wish to be constantly posted as to the names and merits of new publications, will do well to subscribe for Ditson & Co.'s MUSICAL RECORD. It will come once a week throughout the year. Although it cannot, and does not, always record "stunning" musical events (for they do not occur every week), it does not fail to mention and describe the new books, the new pieces, the new singers, and the new players, whenever they appear. 16 pages: 8 pages news; 8 pages music. $2.00 per year.

BEAUTIES OF SACRED SONG.

A strangely pleasing new book, containing a large number of the newer sacred songs which have, in concert halls and choir galleries, proved themselves worthy of permanent preservation. About thirty songs are included, and there are half this number of authors, all of good repute. Sullivan, Marzials, Abt, Thomas, and Pinsuti are among the composers, and Gounod's "Crown Hill for ever," Faure's "Palm Branches," and "Abt's "Above the Stars" indicate the high character of the compositions.

Price, $2.00, boards. Cloth, $2.50.

NORWAY MUSIC ALBUM.

There is a rich mine of new music in a region hitherto seldom explored. Ole Bull first carried us to hear its echoes, and Longfellow delighted us next in its pages, and so would into new and beautiful forms its Saint hymns.

The enthusiastic compilers of the Album have been unexpectedly successful in calling public attention to their subject, which they have so well treated, and the book is already among the favorites. Here you will find the folk songs of the present race, and the legends of ancient Norway, all furnished with Norse and with English words. There are also a few instrumental pieces.

Price, - - $2.00.

FRANZ'S ALBUM OF SONGS.

This charming book is of so refined a nature, and in a sense so difficult, that one cannot expect a rapid sale. The beauty lies in the splendid harmonic combination of the melody which is sung and the accompaniment which is played upon the piano. Or, rather, the melody is interchangeable between the voice and the instrument, so that only by hearing all three parts together, do you hear the whole of it.

So do not expect simply a song by the voice, but one by the two hands with the voice. When all parts are heard, Franz's songs are among the sweetest and most, and as such are commended.

Price $2.00, boards. Cloth, $2.50.

THE BEACON LIGHT,
LIGHT AND LIFE,
BANNER OF VICTORY.

This is the alliterative trio of new Sunday School Song Books issued during 1881, but more properly belonging to 1882, as the year in which they are to be fully known, and to reach their largest circulation. They are all of the best, by Sunday School hymn and tune makers of the highest grade, and very unlike as styles vary with different composers.

THE BEACON LIGHT (30c.) is prepared, as to the words, by Rev. E. A. Hoffman, and as to the music, by J. E. Tenney. A happy combination.

LIGHT AND LIFE (35c.) is by R. M. McIntosh, who resides in Georgia. The hymns and tunes come from all quarters. To suit a part of country where the Paient Notes are in use, an extra edition with that notation has been prepared.

BANNER OF VICTORY (35c.) is by Abbey and Munger, who have an unusual sympathy with child life, and understand its needs and tastes to an eminent degree.

FOR MALE VOICES.

THE MALE VOICE CHOIR - 50c.

By L. O. Emerson, meets the wants of very many who wish to sing "Gospel Songs" with this arrangement. The collection is quite large and complete, the subjects well chosen, the smooth harmony leaves nothing to be desired in that way, and the midweight price commends it.

FOR FEMALE VOICES.

VOCAL ECHOES, - - $1.00.

By W. O. Perkins, has three-part songs, filling 165 octavo pages. The songs are very pleasing melodies, being from Eberwein, Mason, Gilmore, and others, and the work will be a welcome acquisition for Seminaries and Female Colleges.

AN OPERA EPOCH.

There seems to be a new and well defined field opening for the merry men and maidens who make their living by furnishing innocent amusement to the public. Concerts are, in a measure, laid aside. People with new connection, more spicy, more plot to the programmes.

Ditson & Co. are prompt to publish the new Genuine Operettas, and following Operas as they appear, and are particular to have them ready for representation by amateurs as well as professionals.

The new Operas are published in handsome style. They have the full libretto, that is, the words and the stage business, this differing from others that give only the musical part.

They have the stage directions, often simple enough, but amateurs are greatly puzzled without them.

The orchestral parts may be procured either by having them copied by persons making a business of so doing, or by loan of the parts, or by purchase of duplicate copies.

PATIENCE, as every one knows, is a success; all fun, all good music, all harmless wit, and, throughout, most enjoyable. By Gilbert and Sullivan.

Price, - - - $1.00.

MANOLA; or PAY AND NIGHT, by Lecoq, is just out in this country, but has had success in Europe. Price, - - $1.50.

THE INFANTA'S DOLLS is a more mature opera than its name indicates, and is very pretty both in the play and the music. Price, $1.50.

OLIVETTE (50c.), THE MASCOT (50c.), and PINAFORE (50c.) are all well-known successes, easy to learn and to give, and the price is almost nothing.

Instrumental arrangements of various Operas are in demand, and furnish pleasant reminiscences of the airs of Operas that have become favorites.

50 cts. will buy a piano arrangement of the airs of "Mascot," "Olivette," "Billee Taylor," "Patience," or the "Pirates of Penzance."

FOR SCHOOLS (Last Year's Books).

SONG BELLS (35 cts.), by L. O. Emerson, and WELCOME CHORUS, by M. S. Tilden, are still in their first youth, and have been in print just long enough to be brought fully to public notice.

Song Bells is a genial, capital, attractive collection of songs that will delight the girls and boys of Common Schools.

Welcome Chorus is for High Schools, and is just exactly fitted for its position, as large numbers of High School teachers are finding out.

CHOIRS AND SINGING-SCHOOLS

Have recently been introduced to Mr. L. O. Emerson's new books,

THE HERALD OF PRAISE. For Choirs.
THE IDEAL. For Singing Classes.

The IDEAL is little else than a well-made abridgment of the HERALD OF PRAISE, its only advantage being that it can be offered for 10 cts. at retail, and about 75 cts. by the quantity, while the HERALD OF PRAISE costs $1.25 for one copy, or 12 cts. by the dozen.

CLARKE'S ANTHEMS AND RESPONSES.

By W. H. Clarke ($1.50) is a collection of most harmonious music. Choirs that use it will soon become sensible of its great beauty.

Any book mailed, post free, for the retail price.
